PENINSULAR AND ORIENTAL COMPANY.

QUARANTINE AT EGYPTIAN AND CONTINENTAL PORTS.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made for the PASSING the Company's steamers THROUGH THE SUEZ CANAL in QUARANTINE, thus avoiding any detention in Egypt.

The HOMEWARD MAILS are now being landed at VENICE, but the Quarantine, which is still imposed at this and all other Continental Ports, PREVENTS the landing of PASSENGERS, and the QUICKEST route by which they can reach England is to proceed to PLYMOUTH DIRECT.

The passages of the steamers will continue to be accelerated as much as possible. The last four steamers have made the voyage from Bombay to Plymouth in 23 days. Until the Continental route is again open, passengers taking three-monthly Return Tickets will be allowed an extension of a fortnight, if required.

Superintendent.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENT.

"A DISINTERESTED PARTY'S" communication has no interest for the public.

The Bombay Gazette

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1883.

THE negociations proceeding at Paris between Marquis Tseng and M. Ferry are closely watched here, the possibility of war having a serious interest for India as affecting the China trade. The news of the last few days has been of a disquieting nature. Reuter's telegram of Tuesday regarding the rumoured unyielding character of the attitude assumed by China, and the hostile tone of the French press, was perhaps too vague for any great importance to attach to it; but the mail brought information which gave it greater significance. To-day's news is quieter, as showing that the French press are retreating from the more advanced position they had taken up. Three weeks since, the situation had become so strained that in England an appeal to arms was regarded as imminent. The day the mail left, the position had calmed somewhat, on account of the Chinese representative, the Marquis T'seng, having been induced by the friendly offices of the British Foreign Minister to return to Paris and resume the negociations which had been abruptly broken off. Telegraphing on the evening of the 6th instant, the Paris correspondent of the Standard referred to an evident desire on the part both of the Chinese Ambassador and the French Minister (M. Challemel Lacour) to arrive at an understanding; but Tuesday's and to-day's telegrams indicate that the modus vivendi which the sanguine correspondent viewed as at that time within a reasonable distance of realization, has not yet been reached. Further, there was, three weeks ago, a strong feeling manifesting itself in the French Press against the country being allowed to drift into war with China. Later, the Chauvinist spirit appears to have reasserted itself, and Reuter informed us two days ago that "the French press is assuming a hostile tone, and recommends that continued reinforcements should be sent to Tongking." Evidently, the renewed pour parlers which were thought to promise so well on the 6th September, had no very decisive result up to the 23rd September, and meanwhile public feeling on the one side, and probably on the other also, had become distinctly more hostile. We do not, however, consider that war between France and China is probable. In addition to the numerous weighty reasons which exist to deter either country from entering upon such an extreme course, there are too many other important interests at stake to permit of hostilities being lightly undertaken. Not the least of these is the commercial interest of Great Britain, representing a very large share of the enormous China trade that would be completely paralysed by war. Germany and America, too, are similarly deeply interested, though not to the same extent, in the preservation of peace. Then as to the combatants themselves. To take France first, what interest has she in going to war with [illegible] compared with her interest to keep clear [illegible] an imbroglio? The benefits [illegible] derive from the [illegible] is urged; but [illegible] to France [illegible] were [illegible] morrow. [illegible] ended, no [illegible] untry, but [illegible] to French [illegible] to those of [illegible] vers which at [illegible] he trade with [illegible] am giving the [illegible] he two Powers [illegible] Red River to [illegible] without going to [illegible] ance has sufficient [illegible] tax her resources [illegible] costly, protracted, [illegible] thorities pronounce [illegible] tain struggle with a powerful nation, merely because a false notion of maintaining her prestige renders distasteful a withdrawal from the rash claim she made to oust China from all share in Annam and Tongking. She has not yet settled accounts with the Malagasies, and yesterday's telegram, and also news by the mail, suggests the possibility that she may find that settlement not a very easy matter after all. Then, the internal condition of the country and the relations with Germany are not such as to satisfy farseeing friends of the Republic that a war between France and China would be an unmitigated blessing to France. Again, it has been well pointed out that there would be difficulty in confining such a struggle, once it were commenced, to the original combatants. The peculiar circumstances of the Treaty Ports and other matters, such as the presence of a large number of Englishmen, English-built ships, torpedo boats, &c., in the Chinese service, have been referred to as pretty certain to embroil France with England if a war against China is entered upon. It is the deliberate opinion of no less celebrated an authority on Celestial affairs than General (Chinese) Gordon that if war breaks out it will be almost impossible for England to escape being drawn into the conflict.

China has a greater and more legitimate interest in opposing the French demands than France can urge in favour of them. A French annexation and occupation of Tongking would be to the Celestials very much what a Russian subjugation of Afghanistan would be to India. This accounts for the determined obstinacy of the Chinese statesmen in resisting the claim put forward by France to have the whole of Annam, including Tongking, placed under her thumb, and for the vigorous war preparations which we hear of at Canton. China would at the same time, however, be glad to escape the necessity of fighting. Beside the fact that she has reason to dread the result of a conflict with a great European Power, she has a troublesome thorn in her side in the shape of Russian aggressiveness in the direction of Ili. This mail's papers report that the Russian Government has of late been concentrating a large force on the Sibero-Chinese frontier, and that "a considerable number" of Russian soldiers were being conveyed by the short sea route to East Siberia in steamers of the volunteer cruising fleet. These preparations the authorities at Pekin cannot afford to disregard, and they must have an effect in increasing their reluctance to defy France à outrance. Altogether, we are of opinion that there will be no war between China and France. Even had the negociations between Marquis T'seng and the French Ministry completely broken down there would still remain British mediation, which has not yet been directly resorted to, and which when formally brought to bear cannot fail to exercise a strong influence. The contention of China for a neutral zone between her frontier and the French, which is what her consent to the country south of the Red River being annexed by France amounts to, seems a reasonable claim. And to-day's telegram indicates that France no longer insists upon the extreme demand which she at first declared her determination to enforce. When the negociations between M. Tricou and Li Hung Chang at Shanghai fell through, the French representative would listen to no terms short of "an effective control over Tongking up to the borders of the Chinese Provinces;" and we find the latest Journal des Debats to hand by the last mail insisting upon this complete programme being carried out to the letter. "In Tongking, as in Annam," the Debats writes, "we are now, and we ought to remain, sovereign. Every compromise which would take away from us a part of our sovereignty would in the future lead to countless difficulties. It is not only the Delta that must be occupied. A Delta cannot be protected without strongly occupying the heights which command it. The most important positions in the mountains, those which command the river and the valleys, must be taken possession of, and strong and permanent garrisons must be established in them. The occupation of the Delta is useless if the surrounding country is in the hands of avowed or secret enemies, the Black Flags or the Chinese." Now, however, according to Reuter's telegram which we publish this morning, the French have decided upon limiting their claim to the Delta. If this turns out to be the case, the via media which will afford a passage out of the impasse into which French recklessness and vanity have plunged the two countries should not be far from attainment. The Chinese proposal that Tongking shall be divided at the Red River, the southern portion being annexed by France and the northern district remaining under China, is said to have been inspired by England; and British representations in its support may be fittingly backed by America, Germany, and the other Powers interested. No doubt such intervention will be brought to bear before France and China are allowed to come to blows; and, if tried, we are inclined to think it will prove effectual to prevent hostilities. In holding out France plays a dangerous game which, when we consider her present isolated position in Europe and the need she has of England's good-will and sympathy, has a character of infatuation about it which is difficult to understand. There is hope of peace from the pressure of public opinion on the Chamber. French honour and French interests are so remotely connected with the extension of French influence or territory in Tongking that it is almost incredible that public opinion can support the Government in its present attitude. At any rate, the Duke of Broglie has all the materials at hand for a most effective interpellation in the Senate.

THE cry has been raised by persons who ought to have known better that the local self-government scheme sketched out in the famous May Resolution of last year, and embodied in various Bills since submitted to the Legislative Council, formed a startling and almost revolutionary innovation on the existing system of administration, and possessed all the defects of doctrinaire legislation. The notion has been sedulously inculcated that practical administrators are aghast at the recklessness and folly of an attempt to break up the system of personal government which has hitherto worked so well, and to replace it by a system for which the country is not ripe and the people do not care. In the recent debate in the Supreme Legislative Council on the North-West Provinces Bill, Dr. W. W. Hunter, in the course of an able and exhaustive speech, examined this view of the matter, and showed how wide of the fact were the representations so glibly made and so freely re-echoed. The Bill for applying the new scheme in the North-Western Provinces is by no means, in our opinion, a model measure. It has evidently been framed in a spirit of caution amounting almost to distrust. The provision which gives the Government the right to appoint the presidents of the district boards when three-fourths of the members do not give their votes for those functionaries is in itself an evidence of the reluctance of Sir Alfred Lyall to part with a direct control over the boards. For it is quite certain that a three-fourths vote can never, or scarcely ever, be obtained in practice; the boards are constituted by representatives of various and often remote talukas, and it is not to be expected that all the members can contrive to be present at the first meetings when the presid

THE CHINESE PROPOSALS.

PARIS, SEPT. 25.

The Temps publishes an article to-day, stating that, acting under the influence of England, the Chinese Government proposes the French annexation of Annam as far as the Red River; China to annex the remainder of Tongking; and the Red River to be open for navigation to all nations. The French Government make a counter-claim for the whole of the Delta.

ST. PETERSBURG, SEPT. 25.

The Journal de St. Petersburg publishes an article to-day stating that in consequence of the irregularity of the proceedings in Bulgaria, the Russian members of the Cabinet, foreseeing that dangerous measures are likely to ensue, have retired. The article goes on to say that Russia will not remain an indifferent spectator to what is transpiring, but that her action will be regulated by the course of events.

SIMLA FINE ARTS EXHIBITION.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, SEPT. 26.

The Fine Arts Exhibition was opened this afternoon by Sir Donald Stewart. Dr. Hunter, in a speech, explained that in spite of monetary difficulties this year's collection of painting was above the general average. Sir D. Stewart dwelt upon the want of funds which had retarded the Committee's operations, after which the Exhibition was declared open. Among those present were the Viceroy and Marchioness of Ripon, the Commander-in-Chief, several members of Council, Sir Charles Macgregor, and other prominent members of Simla Society. The Viceroy's prize, open to all amateurs, was won by Dr. De Fabeck. Sir Charles Aitchison's prize, open to all amateurs, was gained by Major Holdich. This picture, a water colour, was one of the most interesting in room, representing the signal for attack on Sherpur. It shows the high priest of the National party, under Mahomed Jan, lighting the beacon fire on Asmai heights, which was the signal for the attack. The treatment of the subject reminds one of the method of Gustave Doré. The Commander-in-Chief's first prize fell to Surgeon-Major Molloy for five water colours representing Lahore Fort. The Commander-in-Chief's second prize was gained by Major Strahan. In the absence of Non-commissioned competitors, Mr. Hope's prize was gained by Colonel Hancock for a series of four exquisite water-colour sketches from nature. A native artist of Pattiala gained Sirdar Partab Singh's prize of Rs. 50 with a water-colour. The Society gave five prizes, the first of which was won by Captain Alexander, 4th Bengal Cavalry; the 2nd by Lieutenant Vaughan; the 3rd by Mrs. Dallas; the 4th by Miss McCracken; and the 5th by the Calcutta Art Studio.

EFFECTS OF THE JAVA DISASTERS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, SEPT. 26.

The British Consul at Batavia, writing to the Revenue Secretary, under date 8th September, regarding the damage caused by the recent eruptions and tidal waves, says that on the western shores of Java and the south-eastern shores of Sumatra it is very severe. In addition to the destruction of Anjer and its lighthouse, Telok Betong, the principal town of the Hampong district, is believed to be utterly destroyed. The rain of ashes did much damage to the fruit and coffee trees, but the crops have not suffered so severely as was anticipated, and experts think that the ashes, when ploughed into the ground, will act as a fertiliser.

BURMAH CROP PROSPECTS.

The first paddy crop has been harvested, and the second crops of cereals and vegetables have been benefited by two days' heavy rain.

ON more than one occasion complaints have been made by respectable Indian newspapers that certain persons were found to be imposing upon people in Native States by representing themselves as belonging to the staff of one or other well-known Anglo-Indian journal. We hear that some of these gentlemen have been lately devoting their attentions to Tonk as a possible favourable field for their peculiar enterprise, but are glad to be informed that the attention of the British Resident has been called to their real character.

Two members of the committee proceeded to Madras to investigate the working of the system on the Madras lines, and the conclusion arrived at is that it is defective. The Inspector-General of Police has been asked to report on the defects pointed out, in order that they may be remedied. The objections taken, which will probably apply to the whole railway police service in India, are stated under the five following heads:—(1) No Police officer is present who can take notice of a proper complaint—only a police peon, and all he can do is to take a person into custody; (2) No systematic watch of criminal classes using the railway; (3) No independent agency present to bring to the notice of the authorities any irregularities and oppression on the part of the Railway Company's servants; (4) No connection with policemen on line of railway, and therefore no concerted action possible; (5) Police not identified with railways, and hence unable to conduct satisfactorily any inquiry necessitating a knowledge of nature of railway work.

THERE is some excitement among the Hebbar Iyengars of Bangalore, arising from the question whether Mr. Ramasami Iyengar, who has returned from a trip to England, should be restored to caste privileges. On the one side are the old conservatives who hold to rigid exclusiveness, and on the other the party of progress who desire to break down the barriers of tradition. Mr. Ramasami Iyengar has addressed a letter to his castemen, in which he says that, even supposing their interpretation of the Shastras is correct, which he emphatically denies, yet many Shrivaishnava gentlemen have already been re-admitted into caste after making sea voyages, and there is no reason why an exception should be made in his case.

THE Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal does not share the apprehensions recently expressed by Surgeon-General Simpson as to the future of medical charity in Bengal under local self-government. Dr. Simpson stated that, in his opinion, the work of improvement and reformation would receive a serious check if the principles underlying the self-government scheme were applied in their full sense to the management of dispensaries, and if the control now exercised by Government was allowed to pass into the hands of inexperienced local bodies. In noticing these opinions, the Lieutenant-Governor points out that the Surgeon-General has not fully appreciated the intentions of Government in the matter. Local government bodies will only be invested with a certain degree of discretion in administering funds locally available for medical charity, and no powers of supervision and control which need to be retained by Government will be surrendered. Ample precautions will also be taken to ensure the carrying out of the general policy of the Government in the administration of medical funds.

IN reference to the cholera epidemic in the Central Provinces, it was lately noticed that the returns for the district of Balaghat in one week showed 17 seizures and 13 deaths. Strange as it appears, these figures were perfectly correct, the two additional cases which were necessary to make them consistent with possibility having occurred in the previous week, and therefore being omitted from the statement. The Pioneer remarks:—Nineteen deaths to nineteen attacks is a fatality happily rare even with cholera, and it gives another striking instance of the virulence which has marked the epidemic this year in the Central Provinces.

MAJOR-GENERAL SANKEY, C.B., left Madras on Sunday evening for Bombay en route to England, to take up an important post in connection with the Board of Public Works in Ireland. The Madras Mail describes General Sankey as still a wonderfully vigorous, and young-looking man for his age, fifty-five, and there can be no doubt that he is admirably qualified in every way for advising the Home Government in the matter of improving communications and pushing on public works in Ireland. "As regards public works in Madras, General Sankey is very sanguine, in view of recent sanctions received from the Government of India and the Secretary of State, and of the greater liberty now possessed by the local Government for the expenditure of funds, that another decade will see this Presidency in a very advanced condition as regards irrigation and navigation works, as also with reference to railways, particularly those of the narrow-gauge type. It may not be generally known that in General Sankey we lose one of the best artists in India, and one of the most regular contributors to the exhibitions of the various Fine Art Societies. Of late years he has been too busy to do much with his brush; but the series of water-colour sketches he made in Afghanistan, when serving as Commanding Engineer with Sir Donald Stewart's army, are most interesting and valuable, and will, we may hope, ultimately find their way into the library or record room of some Museum or Institution in London."

RECENT reports on the Revenue Administration of their respective charges tend to show that the authorities in the North-West and Central Provinces have been reconsidering the dates fixed for the payment of revenue instalments, in accordance with the recommendations of the Famine Commission and the orders of the Government of India. In neither Province has much been amiss, as the convenience of the people has usually been carefully borne in mind by Settlement Officers in fixing the dates; and the changes which have been proposed are few and unimportant. The same, the Civil and Military Gazette says, has been found to be the case in the Punjab, in which only a few amendments have been recommended in some of the northern districts, in the direction of postponing the dates for collecting revenue on account of the spring harvests.

AN official Resolution in the Punjab Gazette brings the local self-government scheme in that Province yet a step nearer completion. It deals with the transfer of public works to local bodies. With the Lieutenant-Governor's approval, the repair of certain buildings, and the maintenance of certain roads, will be handed over to these bodies, together with funds to the amount of some 3½ lakhs yearly, for the performance of such duties. It has been decided that, for a time at all events, local bodies are not to be entrusted with the care of jails, and certain buildings at the head-quarters of Government will also be kept up as at present. When the transfers are finally made, it will be possible to reduce the general establishment of the Department. Two of the ten P. W. D. divisions of the Punjab will be reduced, and two will be made moveable. A saving of a quarter of a lakh will be thus effected, which will be used, in some parts of the Province, to provide a Divisional engineer, on Rs. 500 a month, plus travelling allowance, to supervise the public works operations of the local boards; and elsewhere, to supplement the existing district establishment.

A HEAVY bankruptcy case was before Mr. Registrar Hazlitt at the Court of Bankruptcy on September 7. The debtors, who had filled a petition for liquidation, are described as of 151, Cannon-street, City, and of Swansea and elsewhere, steamship owners, shipbrokers and agents, ore and mineral merchants, trading under the firms of Richards, Power, and Company. The liabilities were estimated at £300,000, but a large portion of the amount will probably run off. The value of the assets cannot yet be estimated. Upon the application of Mr. Capel Cure (Messrs. Hollams and Company), supported by creditors for about £60,000, the Registrar appointed Mr. Arthur Cooper, accountant, George-street, Mansion House, receiver and manager under the proceedings.

A GIRL about seventeen years old, called as chief witness in a case heard at Nottingham police-court, having examined the Bible placed in her hand, said: "Gentlemen, this book belongs to the Church of England, I presume ?"—Magistrate: Yes. Witness: Then I decline to take my oath upon this book. Magistrate: Why ? Are you an atheist ?—Witness: Indeed, gentlemen, I am no atheist; I am a Roman Catholic. I shall decline to take the oath upon that book. Magistrate: Why, that Bible contains the Gospels and Epistles approved and appointed to be read in all the churches and chapels in England. Witness: Gentlemen, in all your churches and chapels, but not in mine. Magistrate: What Bible will you take your oath on ? Witness: On a Roman Catholic Douay Bible. Unless I have one I will not take my oath on any other. The witness then left the hall for a quarter of an hour, when she was again called in, and still objected to take the oath upon the book. Magistrate: I have never heard such an objection, only by a Presbyterian, who claimed his form of affirmation. Witness: Then I, as a Roman Catholic, claim to affirm. Magistrate: What form of affirmation will you give that what you say is true ? Witness: I will affirm that what I say is true by the sign of the Cross, in the name of God the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. Magistrate: Then hold the Bible in your hand and make the sign of the Cross. Witness: Gentlemen, I will not hold that book as a Catholic. I set no value on that version of the Bible. It would not bind me. I must have my own true Bible, or I will not take the oath. I will not kiss any other book. The magistrate finally adjourned the case, so that a proper Bible might be obtained from the Roman Catholic bishop.

AN article in the Moscow Gazette, commenting on the idea of a Franco-Russian alliance, will help, the St. James's Gazette remarks, to give a shock to one cherished French illusion. The writer asks what Russia has to gain by an alliance with a Government whose existence cannot be assured for a single day; and how that Power, which "had not the courage to defend her real interests in Egypt, can be depended upon to enter upon any serious enterprise against Germany." When France was dominant in Europe, her position, we are reminded, was always one hostile to Russia; and now the Russian people will never be so mad as to shed their blood for a project so absurd as to benefit her old enemy at the expense of a Power which has a ways been an ally of Russia, and "whose interests are in harmony with those of Russia as far as regards European policy."

TELEGRAPHIC WEATHER REPORT.

SIMLA, Sept. 25.—The pressure has increased in Northern and Central India and Burma, but has fallen over the Peninsula. The changes are nowhere great, but the general distribution is advancing in the direction of the great uniformity noticeable in October. There is a slight disturbance over Bombay, and the weather over that province is squally, with rather heavy rain. Otherwise there is little change. Calms or light airs prevail over North-Western India, with almost cloudless skies, while showers have fallen over Assam, Bengal, Burma, and Ganjam. The maximum temperature in shade yesterday exceeded 100° over the Punjab, but to-day:—Bombay, 3 inches; Sholapur, 2 inches; Rutnagherry, 1½ inch; Darjeeling, 1 inch; Hazaribagh, Dacca, Chittagong, Cuttack, Gopalpore, Rangoon, and Moulmein, ½ inch. Previously, Raipur had 1½ inch; Sirsa, Amraoti, and Ahmednuggur, ½ inch.

NASIK.—Our correspondent writes, Sept. 25:—The elephantas have set in here in good earnest. To-day we had a very heavy downpour of rain. We have had for the season nearly 40 inches. Our new Collector, Mr. Woodward, is winning the hearts of all the natives of the land; he is respected and beloved by all.

WEATHER AND CROP REPORTS.

THE following is the official summary of the reports of the Revenue and Agricultural Department on the state of the season and prospects of the crops throughout India for the week ending the 18th September:—

In the Carnatic, Travancore, and parts of the Southern Mahratta Country the rainfall of the past week has been somewhat deficient, and more rain is wanted for unchecked crops; otherwise the prospects in Southern India are fair. There has been a slight rise in the river in Sind, but it remains below its usual level; at Kurrachee, however, it is reported to be higher than last year. In Hyderabad and the Berars the crops are generally in excellent condition, and throughout Central India and Rajputana good, and in some places abundant rain has generally been and the kharif and improved the pasturage. In Burma, Assam, and Bengal crop prospects are on the whole favourable, although some damage has been done by past floods, and more rain is wanted in parts of Behar and Central Bengal. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and Central Provinces the rice crop has suffered from the long break in August, but other crops are doing well, and the rainfall of the week under report is generally hoped that the Government of India's latest Resolution on the subject will free the Native Press from this cruel disability. Let there be cheap editions of books and pamphlets; let Native journalists pay for them if they cannot be supplied gratis, as in the case of Anglo-Indian publicists. The present treatment of Native papers, especially vernacular, ill accords with the principles of enlightened government—Indian Spectator.

THE reason why so many are unable to take Cocoa is, that the vanilla commonly sold are mixed with starch, under the plea of rendering them soluble; while really making them thick, heavy indigestible. This may be easily detected; for if Cocoa thickens in the cup, it proves the addition of starch. Cadbury's Cocoa Essence is genuine; it is therefore three times the strength of these Cocoas, and a refreshing beverage like tea or coffee.

The most wholesome and nutritious of confections is far less consumed than it would were it not for the great-objection to the trouble of cooking. Under the above circumstances every cake of Chocolate bearing the name of Cadbury's is guaranteed to consist solely of pure Cocoa and white sugar. Maker to the Queen.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white or falling off, use "The Mexican Hair Renewer," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed." Ask your Chemist for "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," sold by Chemists and Perfumers everywhere at 3s. 6d. per Bottle, wholesale by the Anglo-American Drug Co., Limited, 33, Farringdon-road, London.

MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS.

UNDER instructions from the Government of India, the head-quarters of the 1st Regiment Madras Pioneers, under orders to proceed from Secunderabad to the Quetta District, will move as follows:—Head-quarters and right wing by rail for embarkation at Bombay in the Czarewitch on 4th October, 1883; arrive at Kurrachee on 8th idem; proceed thence by rail to Sibi, where the wing should arrive on the 11th October. Left wing to move by rail from Secunderabad for embarkation at Bombay in the Czarewitch on the 15th October; arrive at Kurrachee on the 19th idem; proceed thence by rail to Sibi, where the wing should arrive on the 22nd October. Mountain battery tents are to be supplied to the regiment at Bombay.

No. 3 Company Bombay Sappers and Miners has been ordered to march from Kirkee on the 26th October for Bombay, for embarkation in the Patrick Stewart. This company has been especially ordered to Beluchistan for road-making in the Bolan Pass. Five companies of Bengal Sappers and Miners and a regiment of Bengal Pioneers have also been ordered to the Bolan on similar duty.

The head-quarters and right wing of the 4th Regiment N. I. will move by rail from Ahmednuggur for embarkation at Bombay in the Clive on the 20th October, en route to Aden, in relief of one wing of the 22nd N. I., which returns to Bombay in the Clive and proceeds by route march to Satara. The Clive also takes from Bombay to Aden No. 8 Battery Eastern Division and No. 7 Battery London Division, Royal Artillery, in addition to the wing of the 4th Rifles, and brings from that port to Bombay no. 7 and 8 Batteries Scottish Division, for embarkation in the Serapis on 17th November for England.

The troops to proceed to England in the Malabar on 31st October next are the time-expired and short-service men (whose service will be completed by 30th November next) from the Poona, Mhow, Northern, Bombay, Secunderabad, and Gwalior Commands; also the invalids from the same divisions and districts who have passed the September boards.

The Malabar, due at Bombay on the 21st October, brings from England drafts for the following regiments:—13th Hussars,—2 officers and 84 men; 2nd Battalion Royal West Surrey Regiment—3 officers and 145 men; 2nd Battalion Norfolk Regiment, 4 officers and 188 men; 2nd Battalion Bedfordshire, 2 officers and 155 men; 2nd Battalion Cheshire Regiment, 142 men; 2nd Battalion East Surrey, 2 officers and 264 men; 1st Battalion South Lancashire, 5 officers and 189 men.

The Euphrates sails from Bombay for England on the 6th November, 1883, with the 2nd Battalion North Lancashire Regiment, from Allahabad, and the time-expired, short-service men and invalids from the Presidency and Saugor Districts.

THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF'S VIEWS ON KHAKEE UNIFORM.

THE authorities at Simla have at last recognised the fact, which has been so apparent to every European in India ever since its introduction, that the present summer dress of the British Army is "far from popular," and the Commander-in-Chief, through his Adjutant General, has issued a memorandum on this subject, which, it is stated, has been occupying his attention. His Excellency is of opinion that it is not the colour that is unpopular, but the actual fact of the difficulty experienced in obtaining a satisfactory dye; as also the extra expense thrown on the soldier by frequent dyeing. To a certain extent this is true; still the colour itself is not liked by the soldier, for it is a dirty colour and has not a smart appearance, nor can they make it so, do what they may. Still no doubt it would not be so disliked, so unpopular, and so abused could a really fast dye be procurable, or better still, the material requiring no dye at all; a dye, no matter how good, will never last, not even if it is yarn-dyed, as is proved by the khakee cloth now being obtained from the different mills at Cawnpore and elsewhere; it washes out and comes in streaks after a few washings, though not so quickly as the piece dyed used by the majority of soldiers. Yarn-dyed, how ever, is much more expensive, a material which is required if khakee is to continue to be the dress of the army during the hot weather, stuffs made of Nankin cotton, which is of a natural brown, must be obtained. This, however, will be a matter of difficulty, in Akyab some rough cloth has been made out of this cotton which, however, is of a lighter colour than the cotton now used. Goods though made of this variety of cotton are likely to throw back, a fact well known in Shanghai where Nankin goods are made. This matter has been before the Agri-Horticultural Society of India, who are of opinion that if selected seed were taken, a good and uniform shade would be arrived at.

His Excellency invites the opinions and co-operation of Commanding Officers, in view of a satisfactory solution of the question being arrived at before the commencement of the next hot season. It is evidently a nut too hard even for the head-quarter staff to crack; it may safely be stated that no satisfactory solution can possibly be arrived at, unless that only source of white clothing for cantonment wear is resorted to, or an undyed khakee-coloured cloth obtained; this latter at present is impossible, especially in the material now used, whilst the former is equally impossible owing to the sense that would fall upon the individual soldier. The memorandum truly says no dye will stand the treatment of the Indian dhoby; "the maceration of the fibre on stones and dashed boards, and the subsequent bleaching, will turn any colour white:" in this everyone will agree. A suggestion, however, is thrown out that the present system of washing should be modified or abolished; that each regimental arrangement a system should be enforced free from the objections complained of. Now anyone who has lived in this country a year, a month, or even a day, will recognise how very improbable it is that such a system will ever be arrived at. Only let such a system be introduced, and he or she who succeeds in enforcing it will receive the blessing of his or her household, whilst the present diabolical system of washing would be only abolished entirely Indian Society would be more than thankful. The Commander-in-Chief remarks that white is quite unsuitable for active service, however neat and comfortable it may be in cantonments, and this is exactly what has been pressed upon the authorities from the very beginning; such has been recognised by every officer and soldier; they one and all argue that whilst we are in cantonments let us be neat and comfortable and in a position to take a pride in our appearance, and when we are on active service we will rough it as soldiers can rough it. Every officer and every civilian has his dandy suit and his shooting suit, or his working suit, whilst the poorest workman has his Sunday best distinct from his daily clothes; they like to be neat and comfortable every day; their shooting or working days are when on active service, or at musketry, or on fatigue. That the old system should be resorted to may be taken for granted as a fact, but how is it to be managed? a satisfactory solution of this and the question of khakee and its dye is what officers commanding regiments are requested to assist His Excellency in arriving at. It would be amusing reading to have the perusal of all the replies of these officers, for their suggestions cannot but be very various.—Pioneer.

THE PORT CANNING PROPERTY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—With respect to a paragraph in the Bombay Gazette of Sept. 25, containing some suggestions from a Cavalry officer relative to the new dress which has been approved for the Cavalry of the Bombay Army, I desire to make a few remarks:—

First.—If the objection to change uniforms on the ground that regiments have worn them for a certain number of years, and have fought in them, were allowed, we should still be in the high caps, slashed coats, powder, and pig-tails of Marlborough's time, not to go still further back, and all questions of utility and the exigencies of modern warfare must be put on the shelf.

Secondly.—Your correspondent miscalculates the the number of corps dressed in green. They are as follows:—Poona Horse; 1st Sind Horse; 2nd Sind Horse; Aden troop, making four corps, against three dressed in blue.

Thirdly.—Your correspondent asks, Why select dark-green? The reply is very simple. Because these four corps have a large stock of green in store, and by adopting dark-blue the whole of the seven regiments would be in the predicament he states the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd are in, namely, having cloth thrown on their hands. This, however, is, I believe, not the case, as directly it was known that the committee which sat a year ago had doomed the light-blue, these regiments to a great extent got rid of their stock of light-blue cloth. To your correspondent's objection to the dark-green cloth I reply:—

1st.—It is quite as easily procured both at home and abroad as dark-blue. The regiments who have worn it for years all testify to this.

2ndly.—It wears quite as well. Ask the late Colonel of the Poona Horse, who wore it for years, or the Rifle Brigade.

3rdly.—The dark-blue would be quite as difficult to introduce into the light-blue regiments as dark-green. As a matter of fact, till you put two pieces of the dark-blue and dark-green together, you cannot tell that the dark green is not blue, it is of no dark a shade.

4th.—It is quite as easy to get light-blue cloth dyed in the bazaar an invisible green, as it is to get it dyed dark-blue, but as a matter of fact cloth which has been any time in this country will not stand the dye at all; it simply rots it, and it falls to pieces, much to the chagrin of the heavily taxed Silladar. The fact is that the four regiments dressed in green are quite satisfied with the new dress regulation, whilst those who had the light-blue are not satisfied. Such is the way of the world, and always will be. It is impossible to please every one; and deeper reasons than mere caprice must be sought for in the "new dress regulation" lately issued by the Commander-in-Chief of the Bombay Army.

DRESS OF THE BOMBAY CAVALRY.

THE NATIVE PRESS.

GOVERNMENT AND THE NATIVE PAPERS.

HAVING so often congratulated the Government on its policy with regard to supplying correct information to the Press and thereby making it a good medium of popular education as well as a valuable aid to the administration of the country, we may now submit a few details to show that the wisest policy is of little account unless practically enforced. For instance, we doubt if a single Native paper in India has been supplied with Hunter's Imperial Gazetteer. And we know it for a fact that the Bombay Gazetteer is seldom, if at all, issued to Native writers. There are hundreds of other useful publications, provincial and imperial, which most of the Native papers do not know the existence of. For the Imperial Gazetteer we were referred from one Government to another, and at last dismissed with the usual expression of regret that copies had run out. We had to buy the nine volumes in the bazaar. As for the Bombay Gazetteer, His Excellency regretted his inability to help us. The same was the case with Administration Reports of other provinces and of the Native states, which we badly wanted for comparison. Most other papers are worse off than the Indian Spectator. Now, what wonder is there that these journals should make mistakes in the absence of correct information? It is to be sincerely hoped that the Government of India's latest Resolution on the subject will free the Native Press from this cruel disability. Let there be cheap editions of books and pamphlets; let Native journalists pay for them if they cannot be supplied gratis, as in the case of Anglo-Indian publicists. The present treatment of Native papers, especially vernacular, ill accords with the principles of enlightened government—Indian Spectator.

BOMBAY TOWN COUNCIL.

AT the meeting of the Town Council, yesterday, there were present Sir Frank Souter, Chairman, Messrs. Dosabhoy Framjee, R. M. Sayani, N. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, M. N. Banajee, R. N. Khote, Nowrozjee Furdoonjee, Dr. Blanc, and Colonel Merewether.

SPECIAL CHOLERA ESTABLISHMENT.

The Council recommended the Corporation to sanction the grant of Rs. 3,500, from surplus cash balance, to provide (1) for the temporary employment of seven medical officers during the prevalence of cholera, one officer for each ward of the city, and of an eighth medical officer for the charge of a temporary hospital; (2) for the erection and maintenance of such temporary hospital; and (3) for the purchase of medicine, stores, and dietary. (This is not an additional charge, as it was sanctioned by the Council as a transfer on 25th July last, but the sanction of the Corporation has to be obtained, in conformity with the opinion of the solicitors, dated 31st July last, regarding transfers from one Budget head of expenditure to another.)

GRANT TO AN INJURED EMPLOYE.

The Council considered an application for sanction to the payment of Rs. 33-6 to Moonee Murree, a moulder in the Municipal workshops, being the amount of wages for 122 days, at 7 annas per day, whilst he was under medical treatment for injuries received by him when working in the shops.

The Acting Municipal Commissioner said the man had been employed in the workshops at the rate of fourteen annas per day, and was very severely burnt while in the performance of his duties. The matter was brought before the Council, to see whether a larger sum than was asked for should not be granted.

On the motion of Colonel Merewether, seconded by Mr. N. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, it was resolved to sanction the payment of full pay to the applicant, to the amount being Rs. 106-12.

A NEW TELEPHONE COMPANY.

A letter was submitted from Mr. Pearson, manager of the Crossley Telephone Company, asking permission to ran telephone lines in the city, in connection with the exchange which, he said, was about to be established in Bombay.

The matter was referred to the Municipal Commissioner for report.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE
THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE.
ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.
From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.
Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodine" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT,
3, Great Russel-street, Bloomsbury, London.

ADVERTISING

RAILWAY STATIONS.

THE Proprietor of the "BOMBAY GAZETTE," Press having leased from the GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY COMPANY and the BOMBAY, BARODA AND CENTRAL INDIA RAILWAY COMPANY the exclusive right of advertising at all the Railway Stations belonging to these two Companies, is prepared to contract with parties desirous of posting Notices of Advertisement on the lines.

The advantages which Railway Stations present as a means of bringing intimations of all kinds before the public have been demonstrated in England by the extensive use which is made by Advertisers, of every station, great and small, along every one in the United Kingdom.
"INSURANCE COMPANIES, SHIPPING COMPANIES HOTEL-KEEPERS, MERCHANTS, TRADERS and other how wish to force their business on the notice of the public, all alike value the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.
There is no reason why the privilege should not be also specially valuable to Advertisers in India. Looking to the great and increasing number of Native Railway Passengers on the two trunk lines of Western India, Native Merchants, Traders, &c., seeing that they have the privilege of advertising in their own language, would find the publication of their announcements at Railway Stations an infallible means of extending their business.
And as nearly ALL TRAVELLERS ARRIVING IN INDIA NOW LAND AT BOMBAY and proceed by the G. I. P. or B. B. and C. I. Railways to their destinations, Placards exhibited at the different stations [illegible] lines are every day becoming more and [illegible] means of bringing the Advertisers [illegible] the public.
